

Landing screen after manager logs in. There are three sections: Drafts, Pending Tasks and Current Tasks.

#2 As a manager, I want to add a task, so that I can see who the best possible team members for the task are, and assign the best team member for the task.

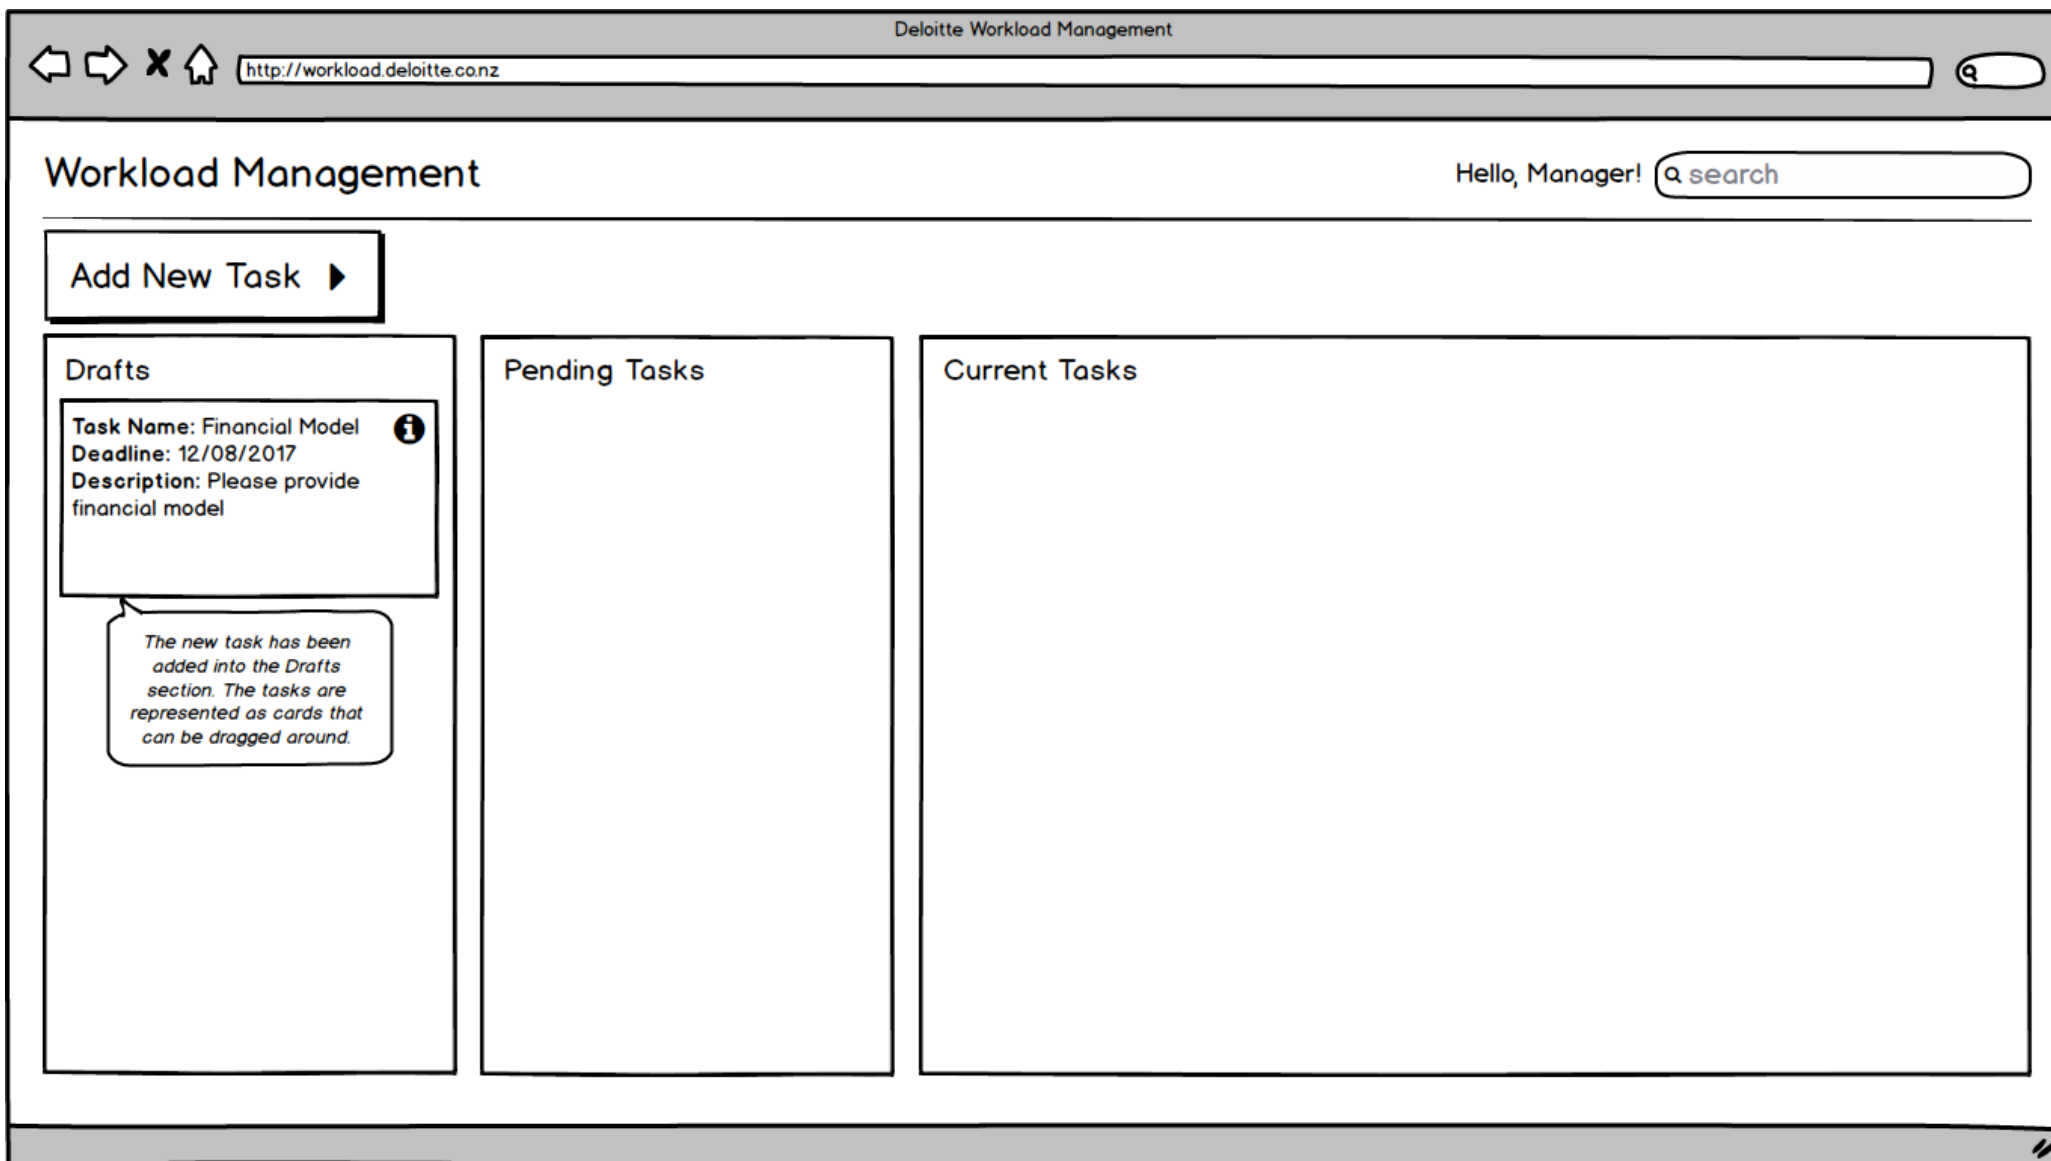

Acceptance criteria: When I have a task, I can send it to the system to find the best team member and assign that task them.

Manager adds a new task with all fields filled in.

#2 As a manager, I want to add a task, so that I can see who the best possible team members for the task are, and assign the best team member for the task.

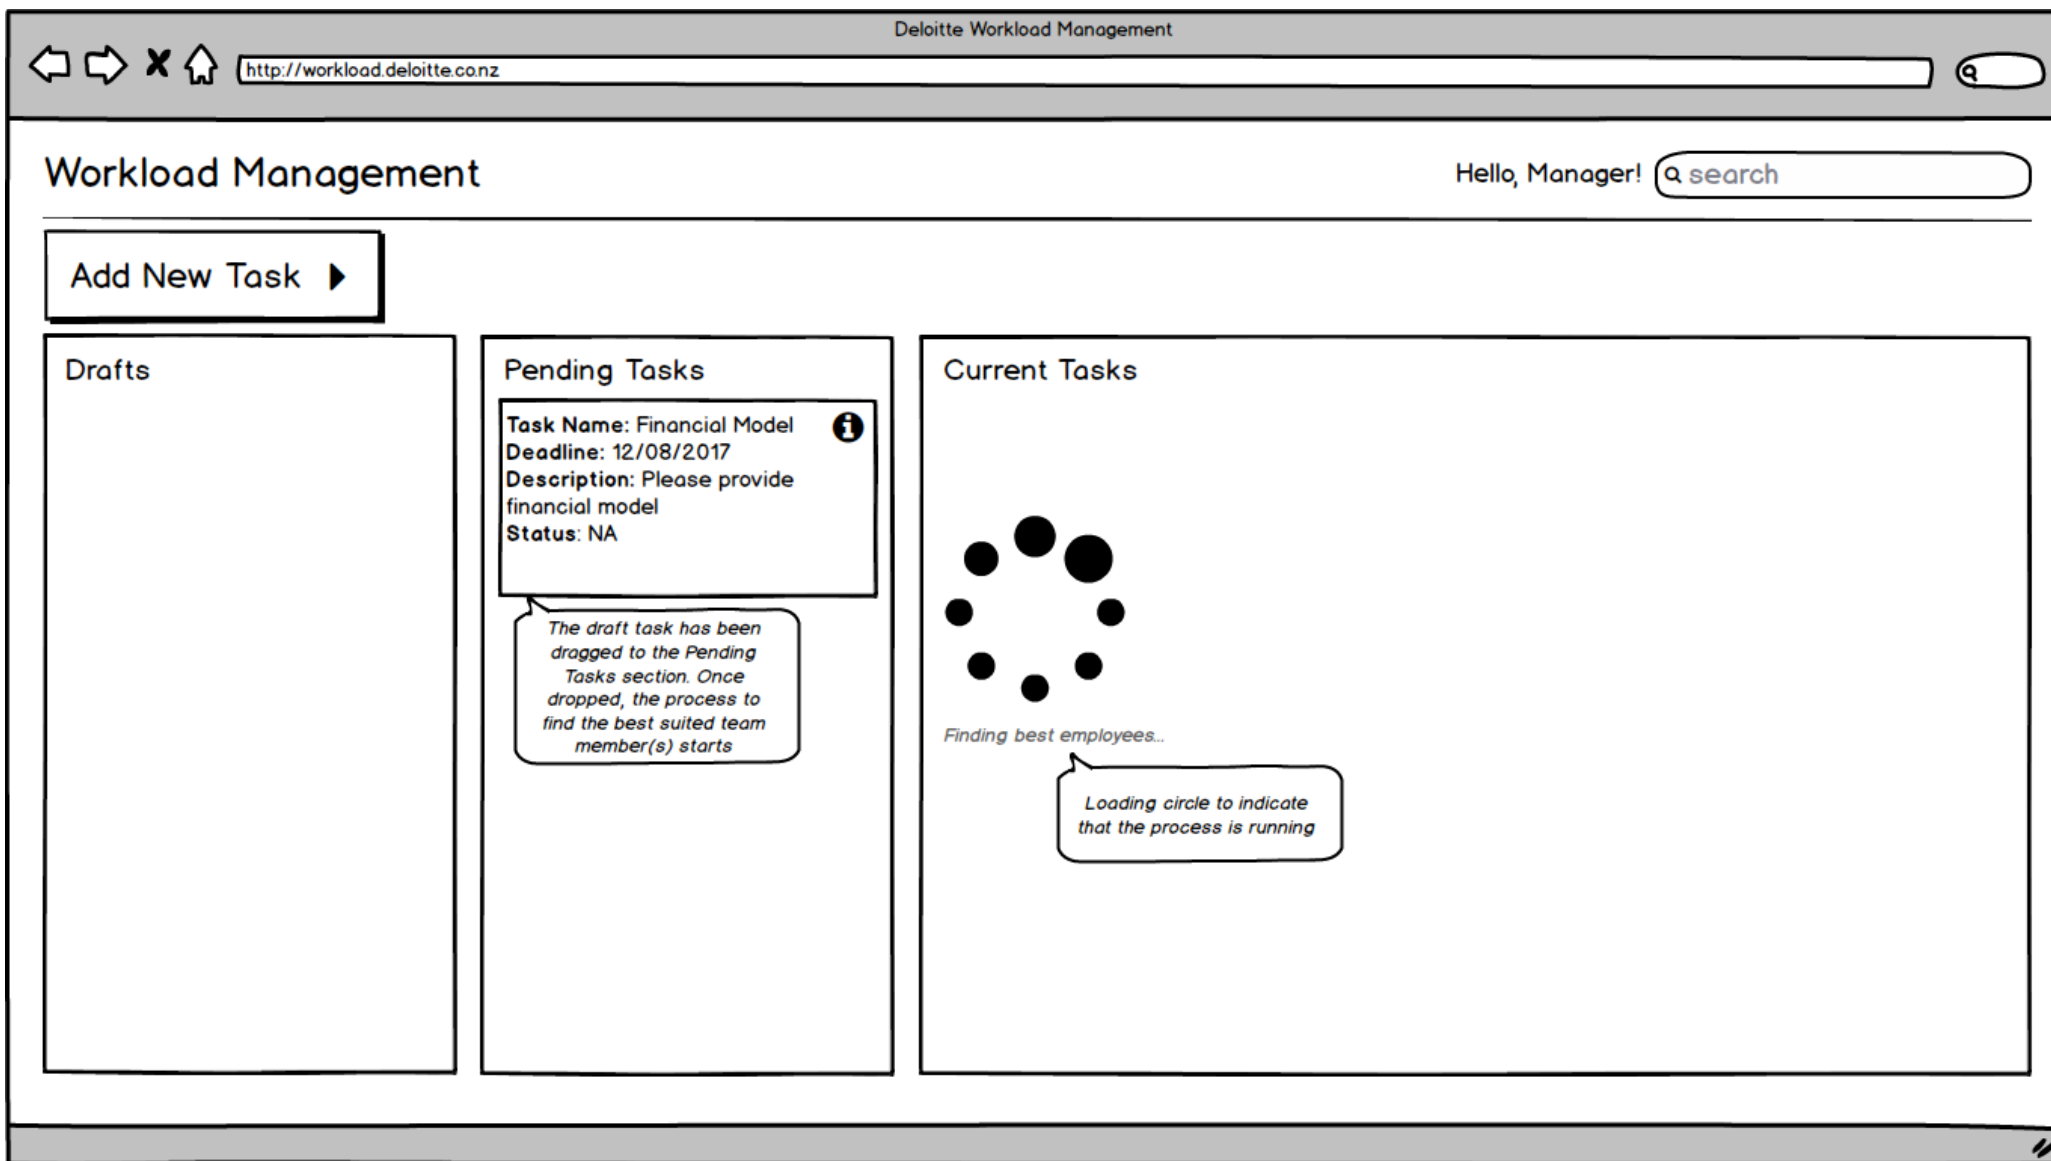

Acceptance criteria: When I have a task, I can send it to the system to find the best team member and assign that task them.

A recently added task will appear in the "Drafts" section.

#2 As a manager, I want to add a task, so that I can see who the best possible team members for the task are, and assign the best team member for the task.

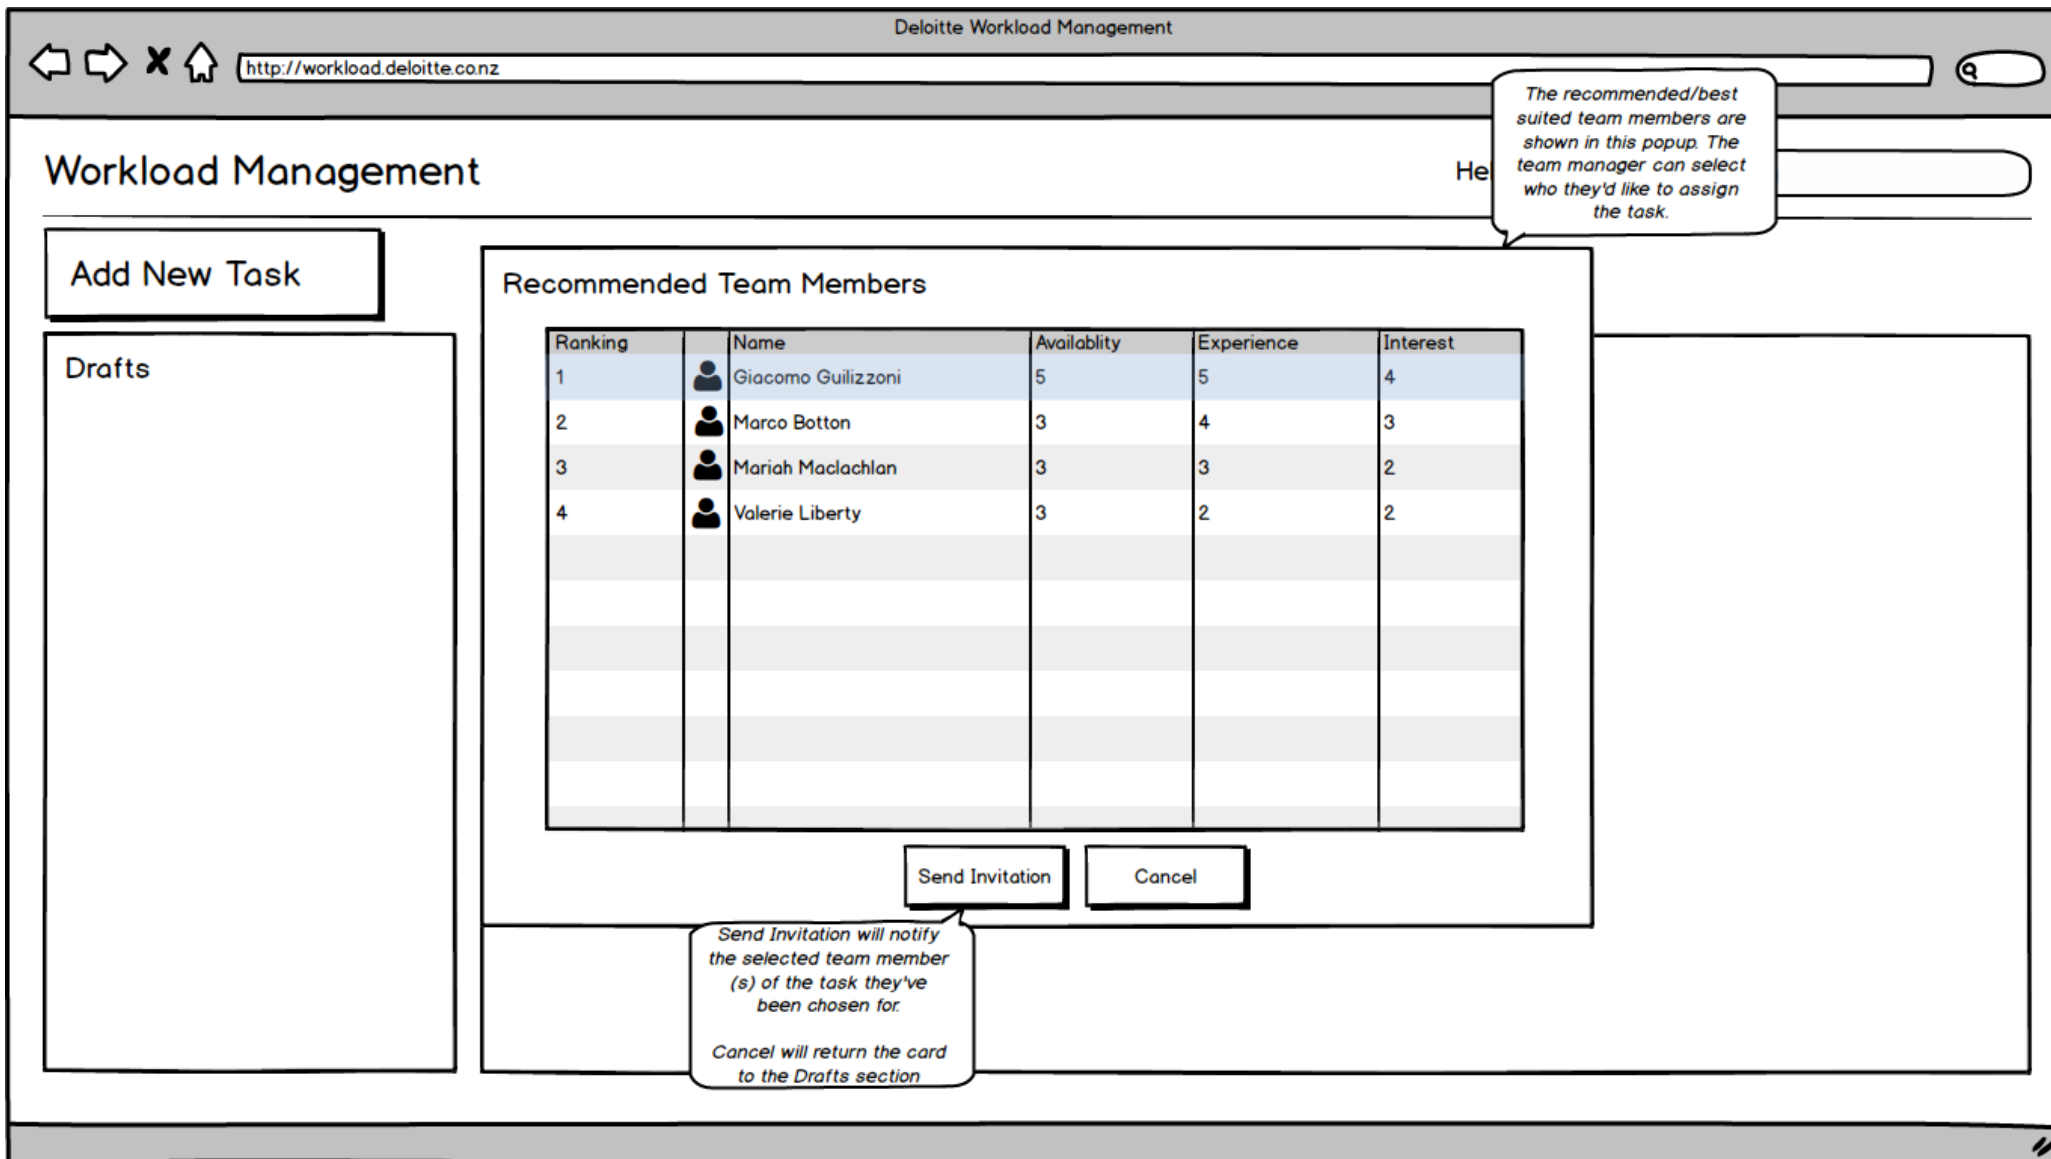

Acceptance criteria: When I have a task, I can send it to the system to find the best team member and assign that task them.

The task has been dragged from "Drafts" to "Pending Tasks". This starts the process for finding the best team members for the task.

#2 As a manager, I want to add a task, so that I can see who the best possible team members for the task are, and assign the best team member for the task.

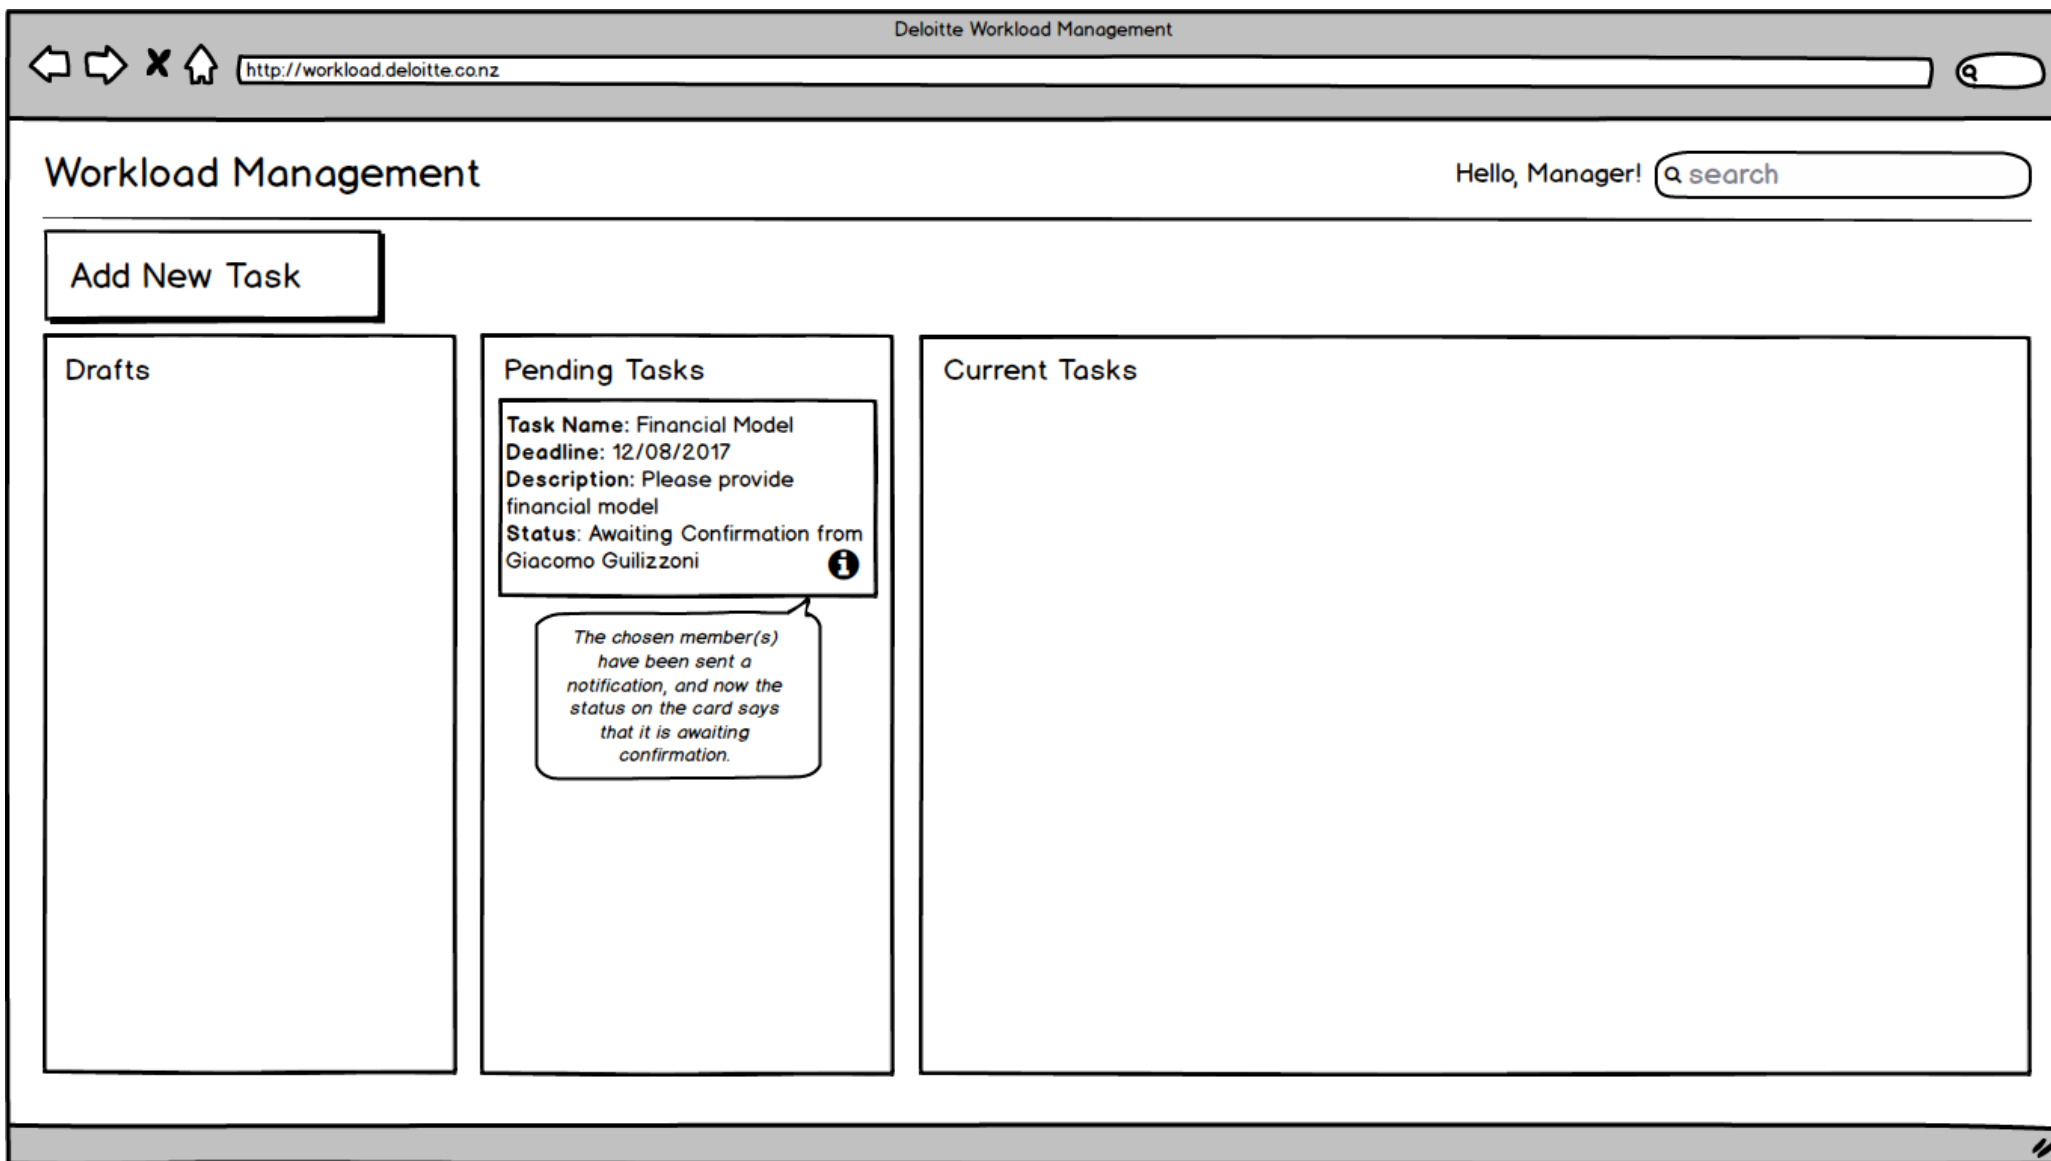

Acceptance criteria: When I have a task, I can send it to the system to find the best team member and assign that task them.

The recommended team members for the task are shown. The manager then selects a team member from the list who will be notified that they have been chosen for a task.

#3 As a manager, I want to notify the best team member suited for the task, so that I can know if they are available to complete the task.

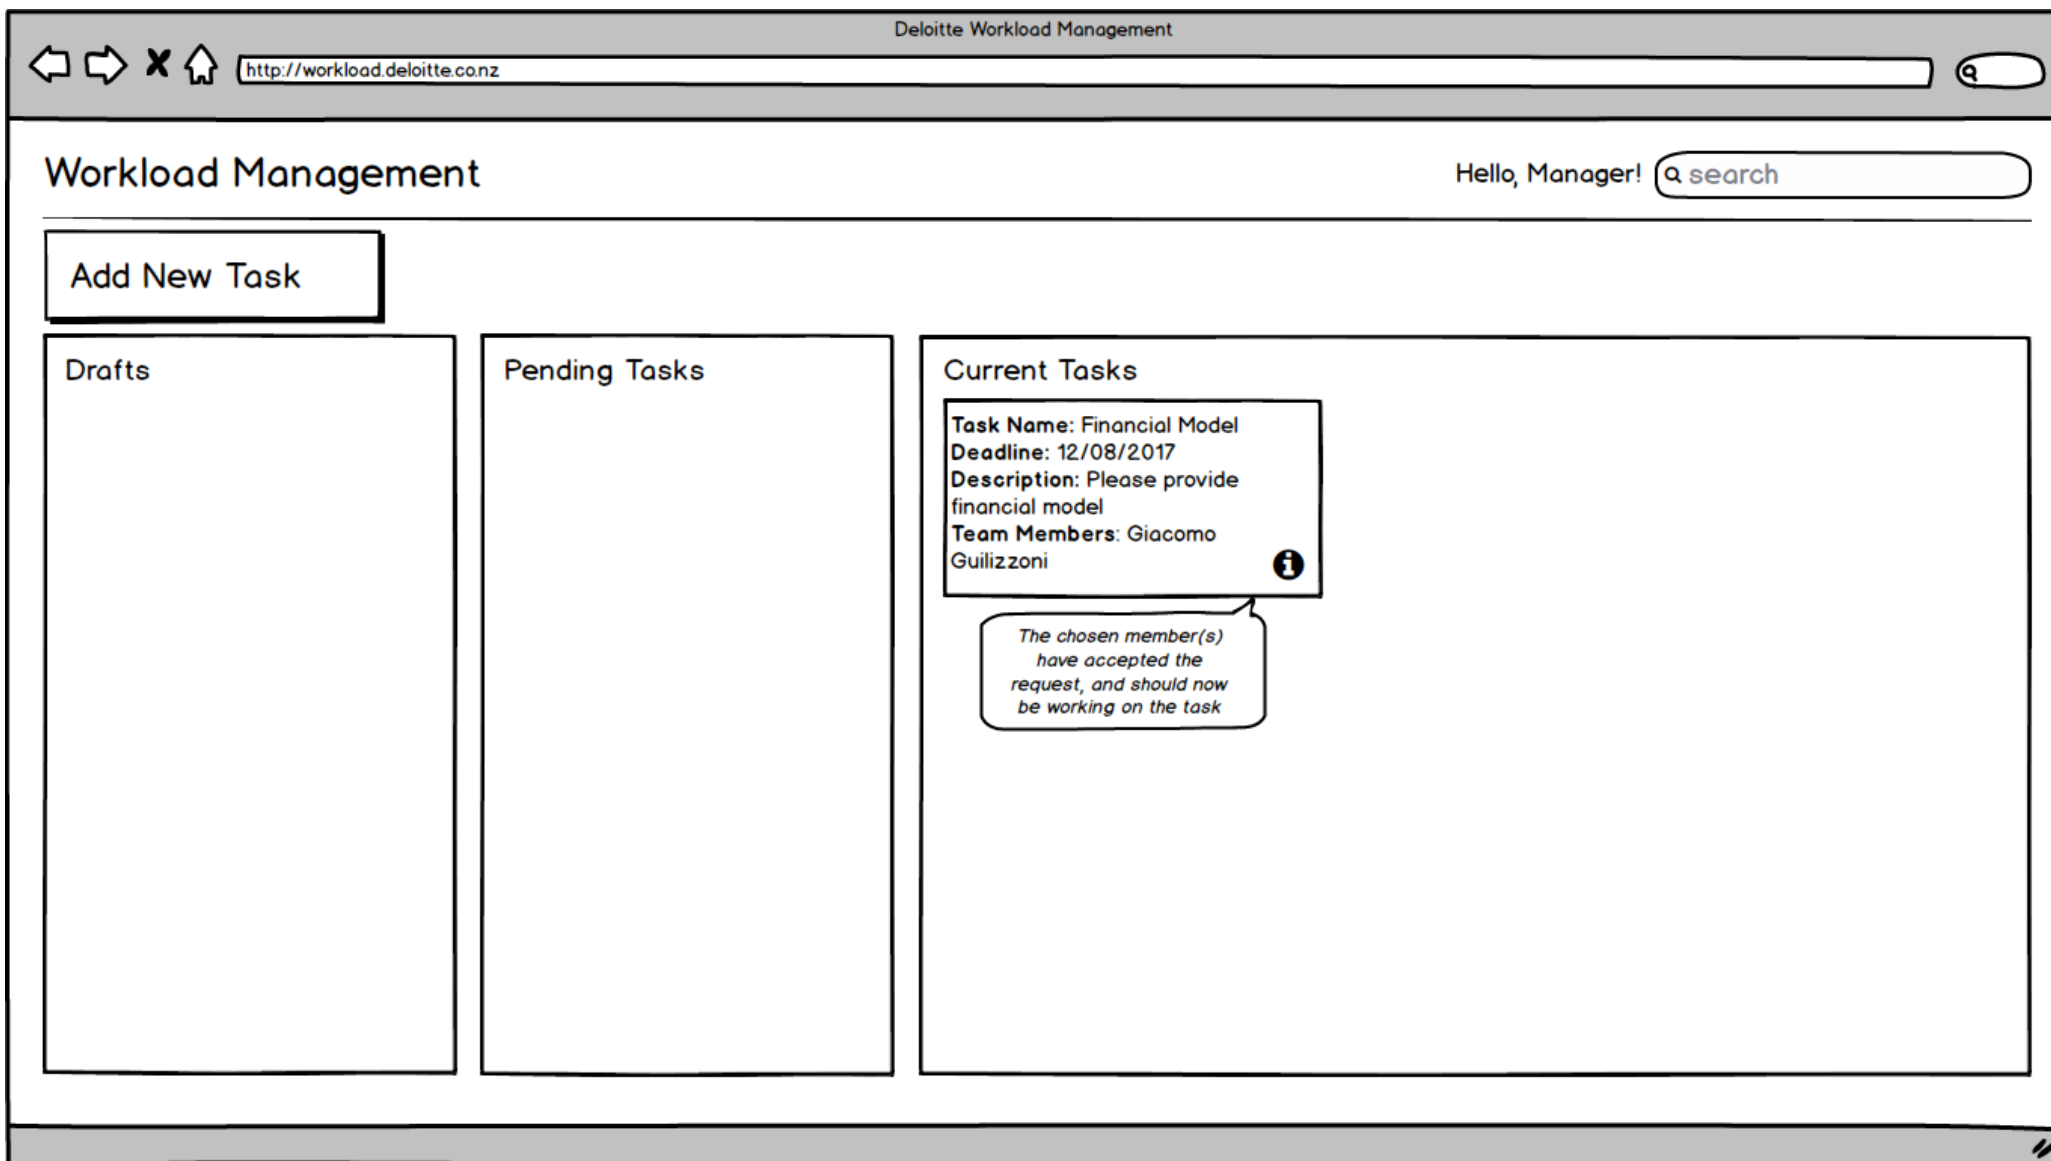

Acceptance criteria: When I send a task to a team member, a notification is sent to the team member so that they know they have been requested for the task.

The task is now in the "Pending" section, awaiting confirmation from the chosen team member.

#3 As a manager, I want to notify the best team member suited for the task, so that I can know if they are available to complete the task.

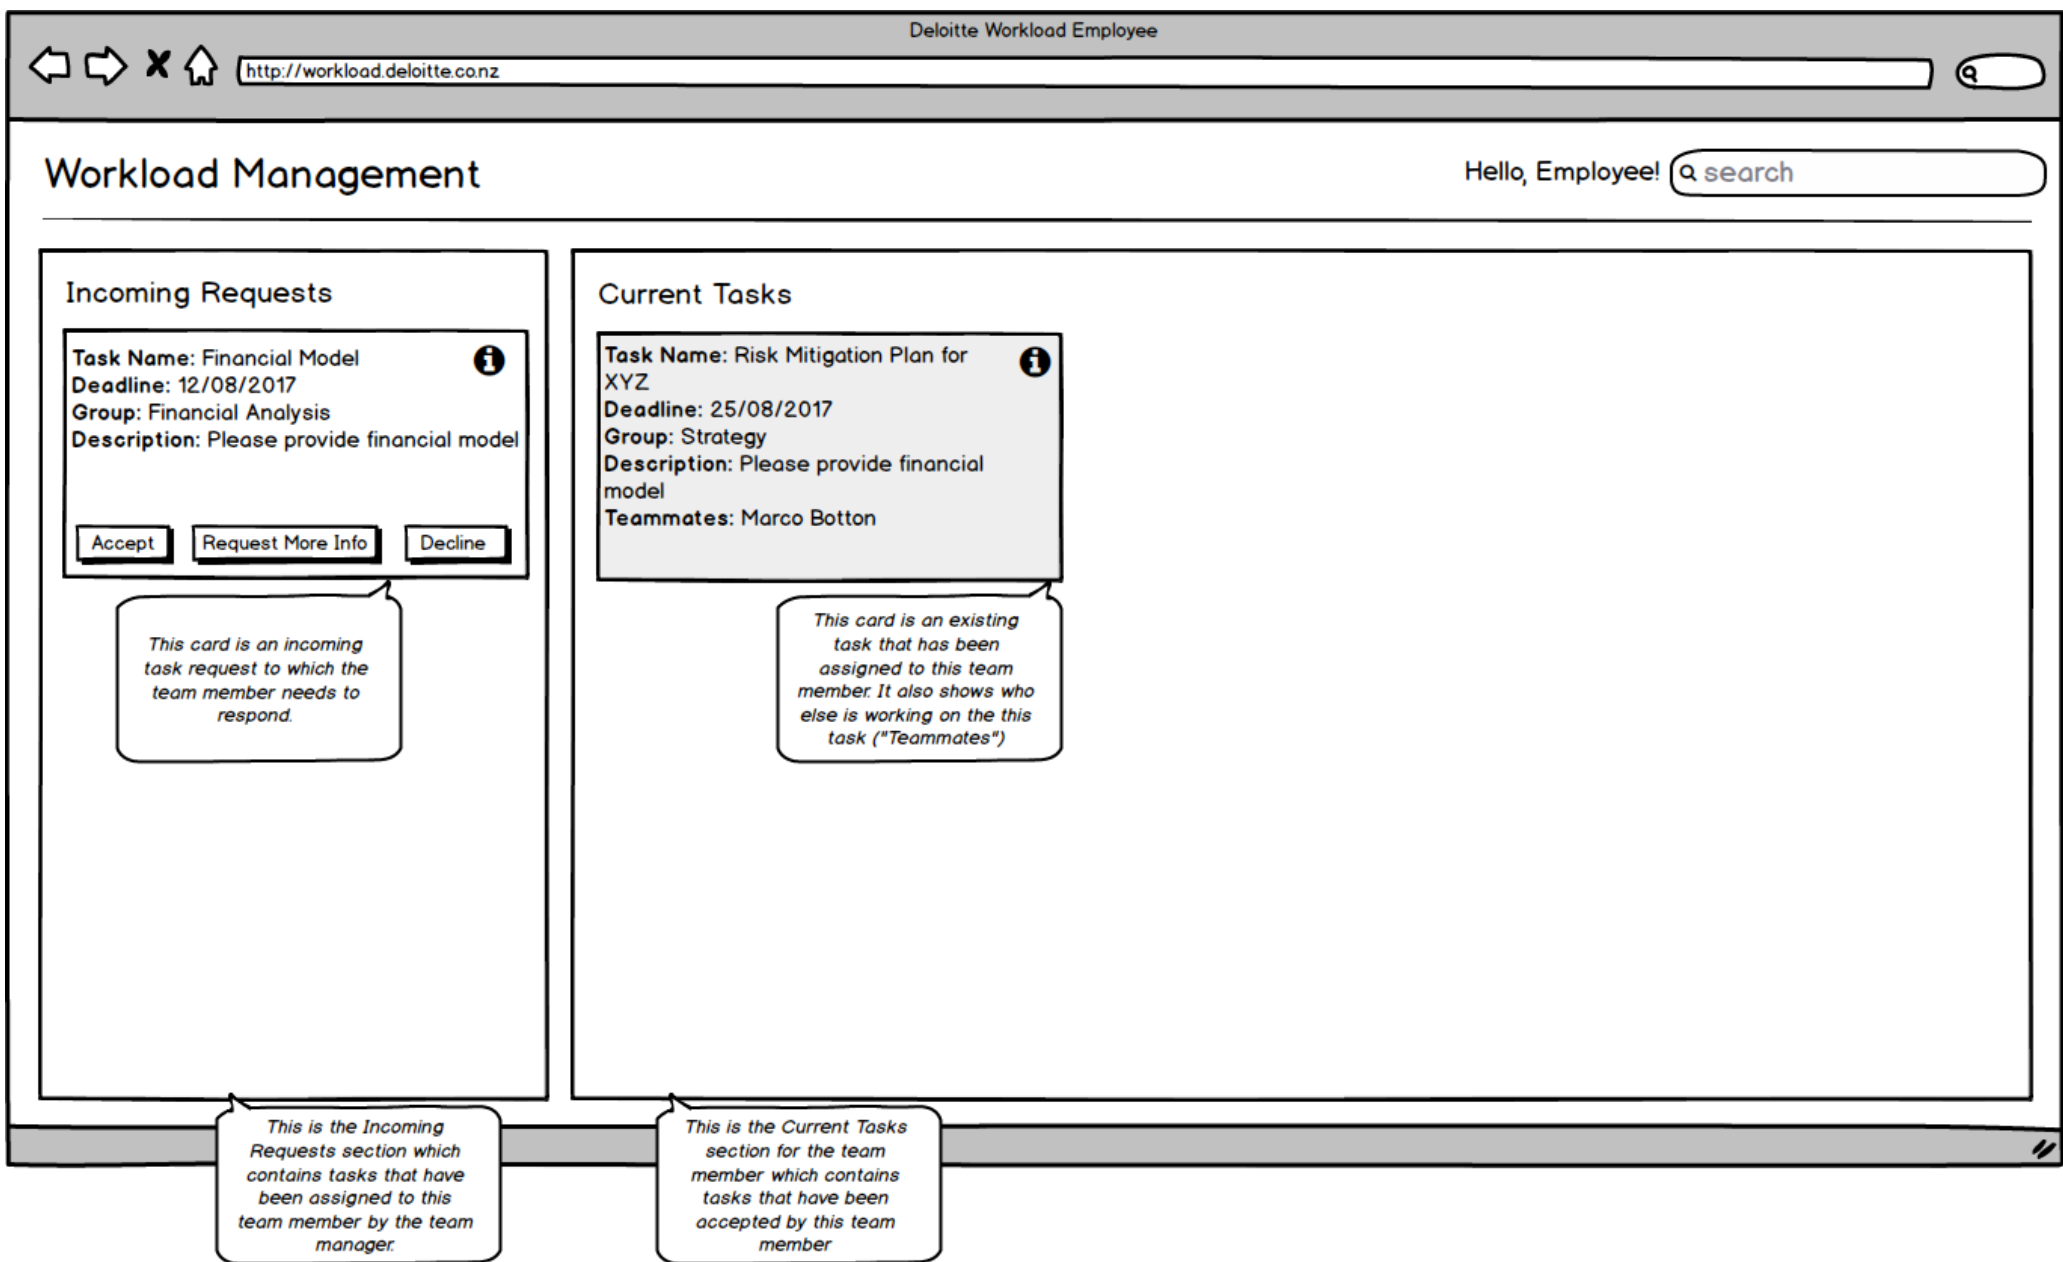

Acceptance criteria: When I send a task to a team member, a notification is sent to the team member so that they know they have been requested for the task.

The task is now in the "Pending" section, awaiting confirmation from the chosen team member.

#3 As a manager, I want to notify the best team member suited for the task, so that I can know if they are available to complete the task.

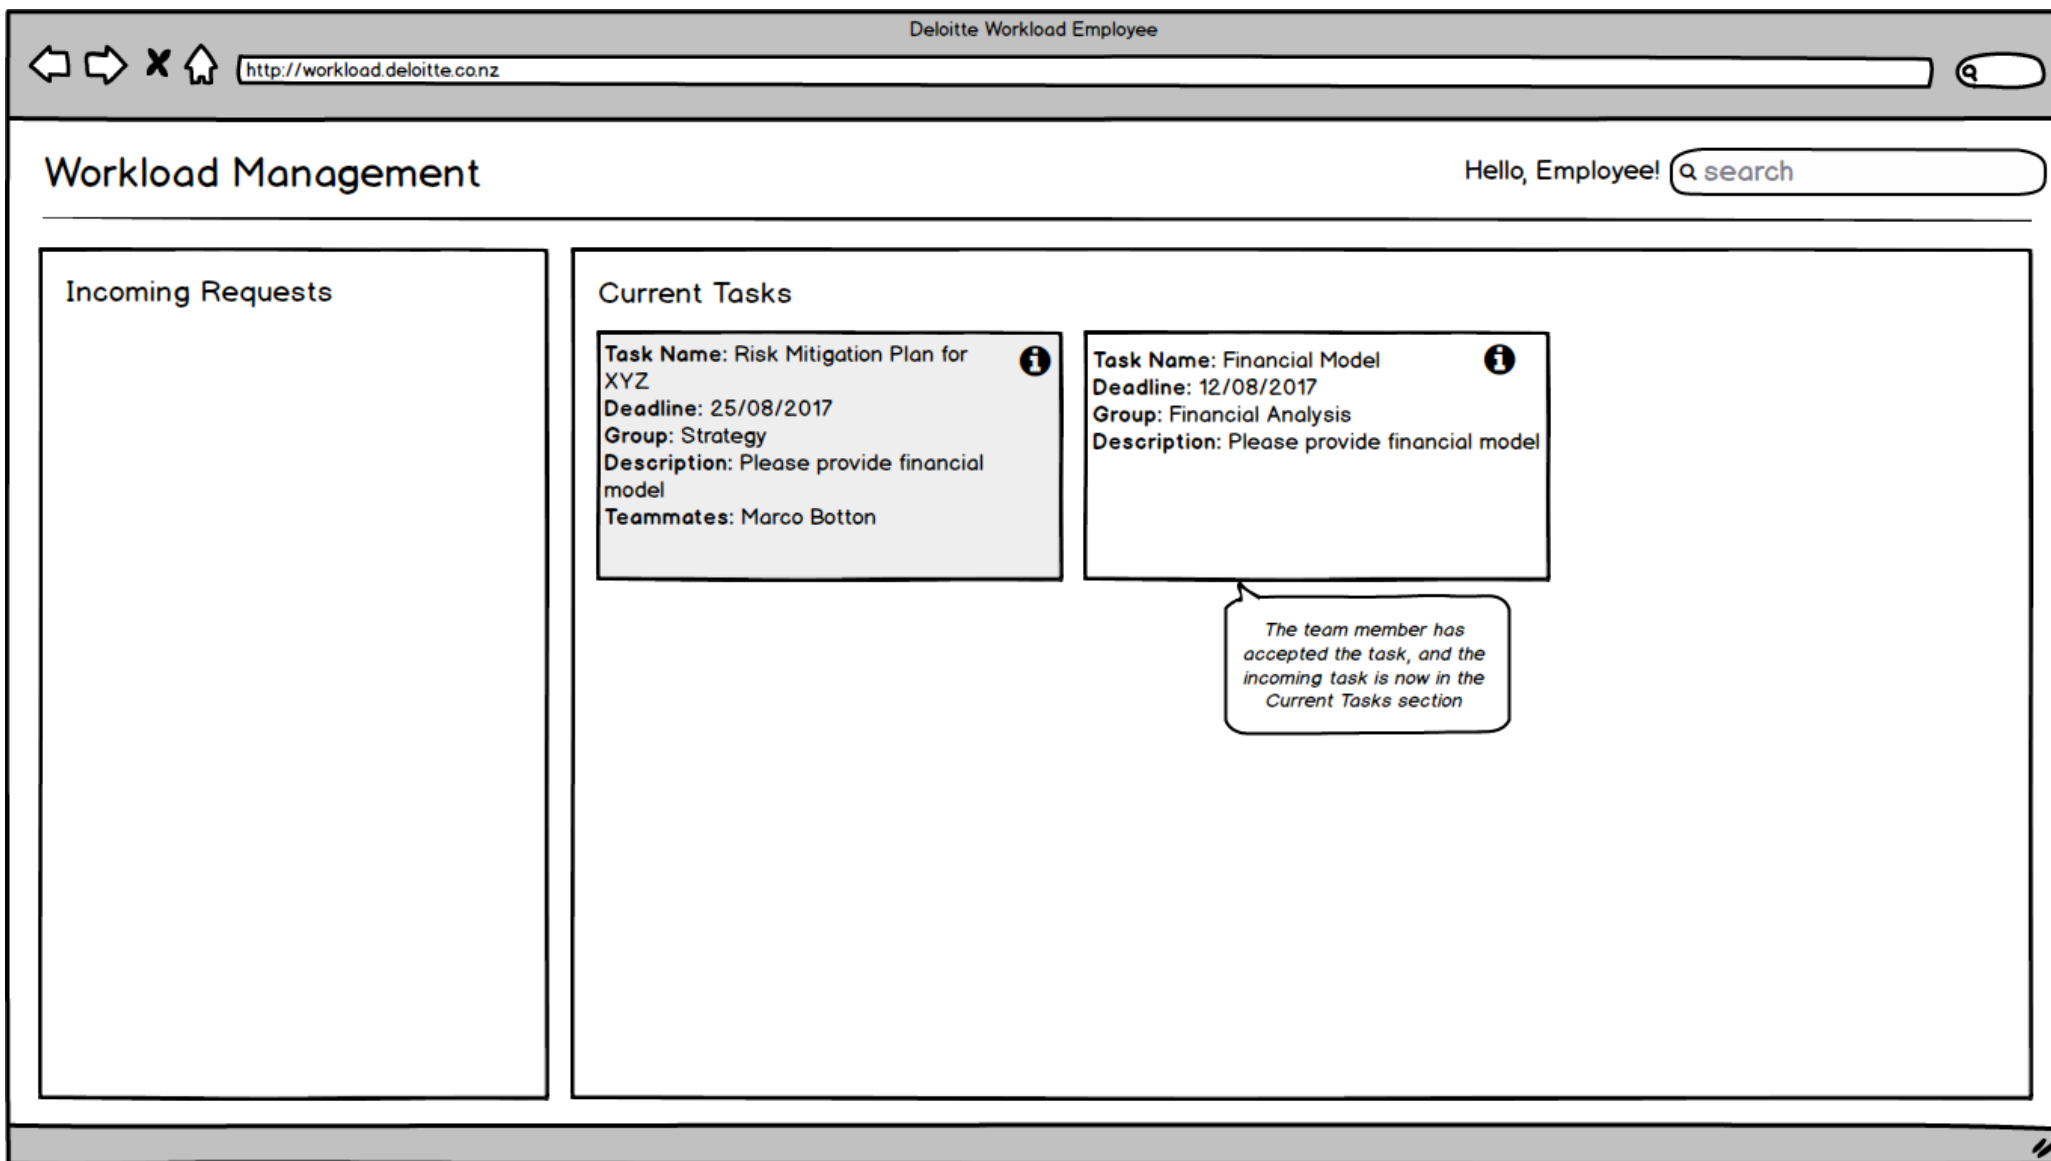

Acceptance criteria: When I send a task to a team member, a notification is sent to the team member so that they know they have been requested for the task.

Team members can see their incoming task requests and can respond with "Accept", "Request More Info", or "Decline" (with a reason).

#4 As a team member, I want to respond to task allocation request notifications, so that I can let the manager know if I can do the task assigned to me.

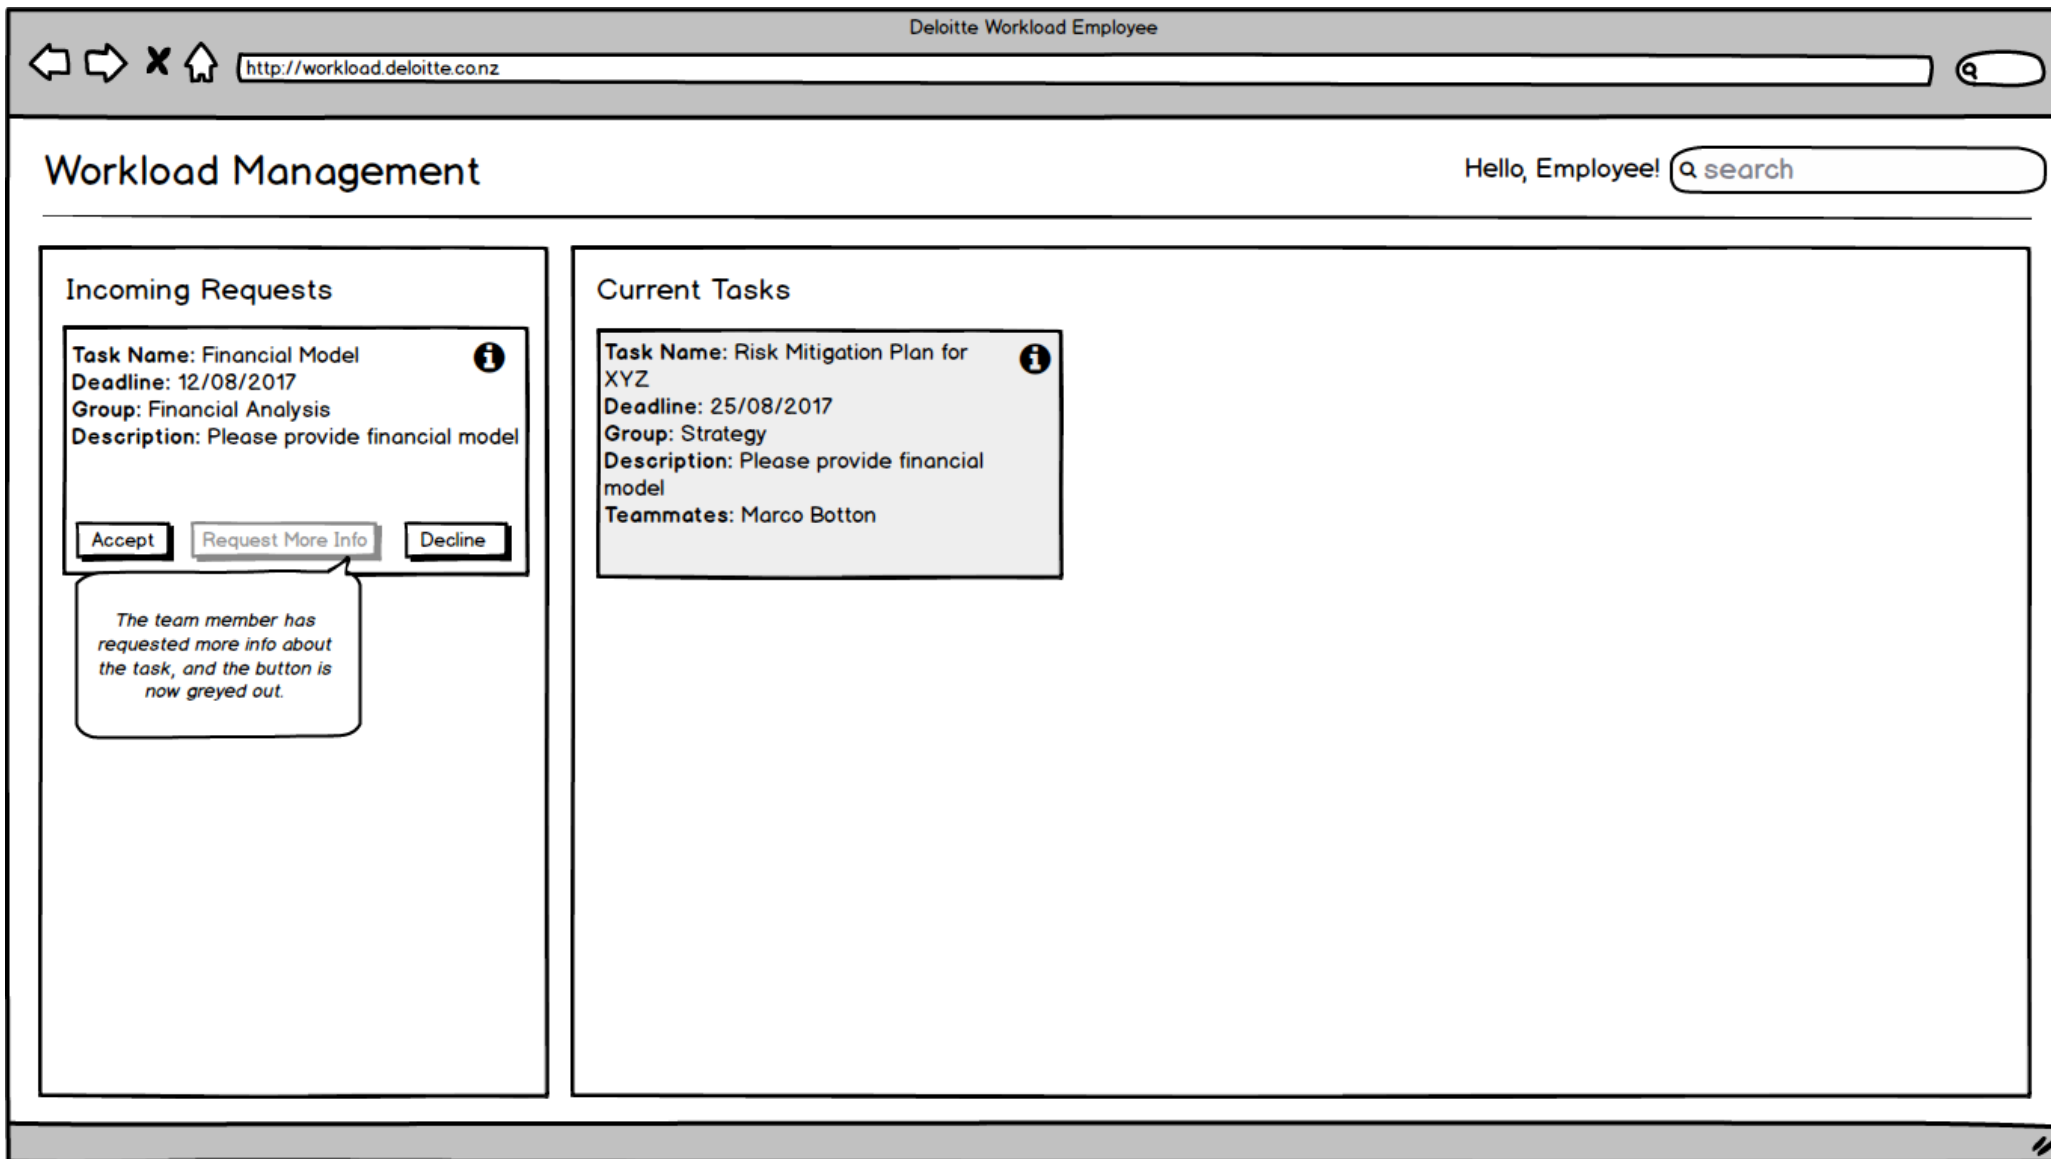

After accepting a task, the task card will go in the "Current Tasks" section.

#4 As a team member, I want to respond to task allocation request notifications, so that I can let the manager know if I can do the task assigned to me.

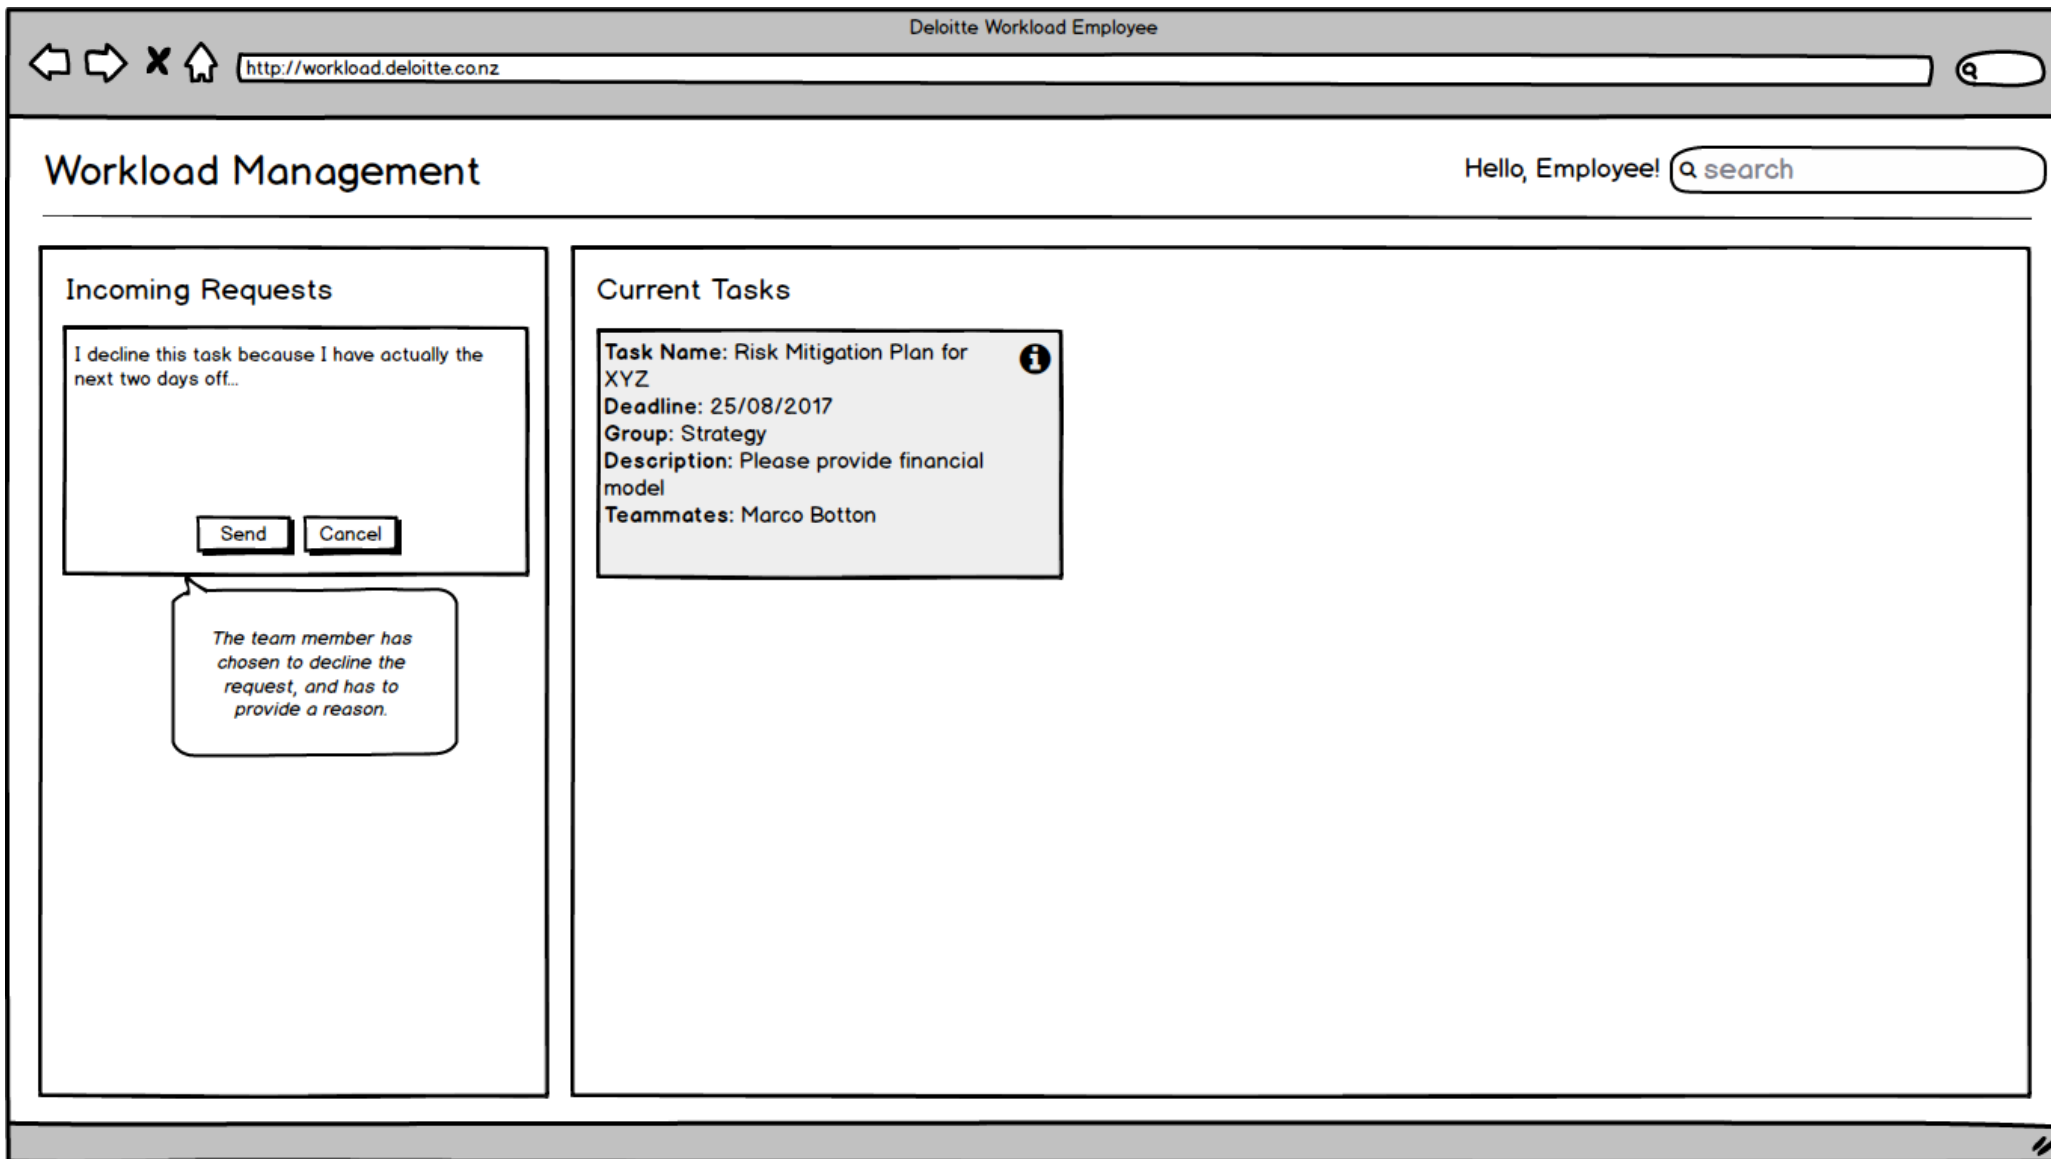

Acceptance criteria: When I get a task assigned to me, I can respond to the task allocation easily with "Accept", "Request More Info", or "Decline".

After requesting more information, the task card remains in the same column ("Incoming Requests").

#4 As a team member, I want to respond to task allocation request notifications, so that I can let the manager know if I can do the task assigned to me.

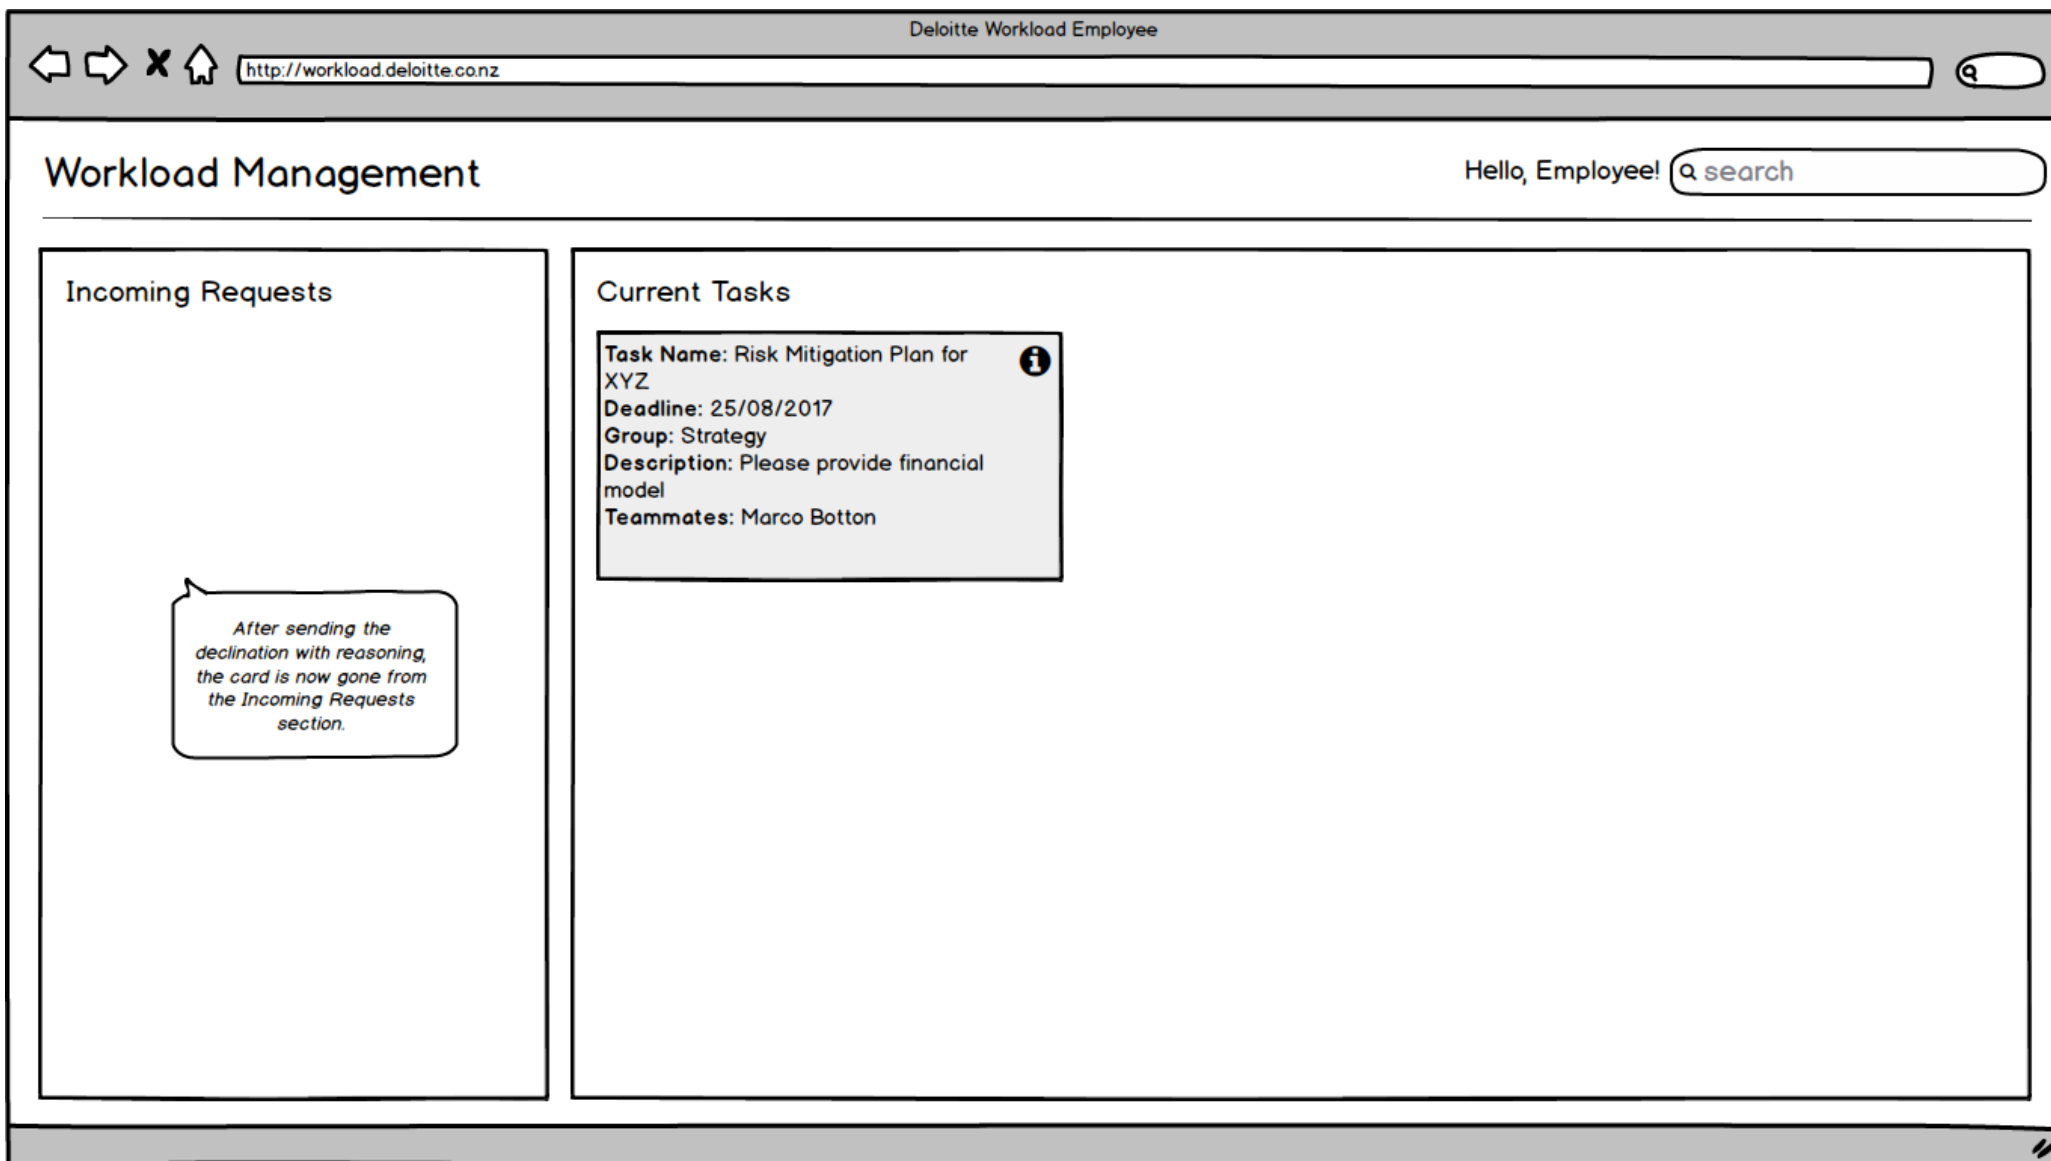

Acceptance criteria: When I get a task assigned to me, I can respond to the task allocation easily with "Accept", "Request More Info", or "Decline".

If a team member wants to decline a task, they must state the reasoning.

#4 As a team member, I want to respond to task allocation request notifications, so that I can let the manager know if I can do the task assigned to me.

Acceptance criteria: When I get a task assigned to me, I can respond to the task allocation easily with "Accept", "Request More Info", or "Decline".

After declining, the task card is gone.

#4 As a team member, I want to respond to task allocation request notifications, so that I can let the manager know if I can do the task assigned to me.

Acceptance criteria: When I get a task assigned to me, I can respond to the task allocation easily with "Accept", "Request More Info", or "Decline".